Industrial IoT startups ready to scale-up

Berlin has established itself as one of the top startup hubs in Europe. The German capital records more than 40 thousand startups, translating into one of the highest startup to inhabitant ration. Berlin is the German hub for IoT-startups: In Germany, by far the most IoT-Organizations are located in Berlin. Over the past few years, over 50 corporate accelerators and other special programmes, such as Lufthansa, Metro, SAP, IBM, Viessmann, Volkswagen, Daimler and Bosch, have moved their innovation hubs to Berlin. Berlin is the gateway to the German market and it's strong Mittelstand (+3 million SMEs making up the fabric of the economy).

The Berlin Deep Dive Week will be an action-packed program with real benefits for scale-ups that participate, including:

- Two-way Pitching: Corporates pitch startups on specific collaboration options
- Matchmaking / One-on-one sessions with multipliers & corporate partners
- Industry specific Workshops
- Access to the local IoT ecosystem
